Troll

He isn't a true replica. I see I forgot to make an earring for him and his glasses are too big, but I am happy with him anyway. He needs a haircut, I forgot that also. But he can collect dust as good as any other knick knack!

I don't know who did the sketch.

The signature on the drawing is illegible.

I used air dry clay, craft paint, some wire for the glasses, paper for the book and horse hair from my beloved but gone horse for the hair.
