

Prayer

I'm grateful to God, to Life, to the Universe for the gifts we are given, Life, beauty, Love, this planet for our home. I'm grateful for our positive interconnection with all life, with all existence. I'm grateful for our consciousness and for our growing consciousness of the value of these gifts. I'm grateful for our consciousness and our growing consciousness of humanity's part in the beautifully interconnected web of all existence.

I apologize for humanity's aggression, for our lack of regard for life, for our lack of regard and gratitude for the gifts all humanity was given and is given this day, this moment. I apologize for humanity's greed and aggressive desire for power over others that leads to warfare and other destructive attempts to exploit the resources of the universe in pursuit of wealth and power over others.

I ask God, Life, the universe to forgive those who seek to destroy what is good and beautiful in this existence, for they know not what they do. Lack of regard and lack of Love comes from ignorance that the gifts of Beauty, Love, and Life were given to all and should be cherished and carefully cared for for all, not only for all humanity, but for all Life, for all Existence.

I pray to God, to Life, to the universe that knowledge of the power of Life, of Love, knowledge of the responsibility of all humankind toward Life and Love, can continue to spread. I pray that knowledge of the power of good overcomes the ignorance that permits warfare and other destruction to be carried out by humankind.
